

EXPANDING YOUR MONEY MINDSET!

Our awareness of the power and purpose of money begins at a very early age. Whether your experience was of abundance or need, your family, friends, culture, world events, and many other influences shape your relationship with money. Some of these influences have been helpful and supported you in success. Others have posed obstacles to overcome or lead to less than fulfilling outcomes.

Research shows that the first step to moving toward more a mindful financial perspective is better understanding past influences and examining their current usefulness. This workshop provides engaging tools to strengthen a healthy mindset moving forward and discard old patterns.

Come join, Amy N Mullen, CFP®, President of Money Quotient, to learn more about why understanding your life history is so important to the success of your financial life. Enjoy some fun exercises and conversation to begin your exploration of your past and the connection to your current money mindset and behaviors.

Amy Mullen, CFP®
President of Money Quotient

Amy Mullen, CFP® presents at national financial industry conferences on the benefits and effectiveness of a values-based approach to financial planning, understanding clients’ financial motivations and how to guide them through change. In her role as President of Money Quotient, Inc., she teaches other financial professionals how to bring science to the art of relationship.

Mullen has been a featured guest on Michael Kitces’ popular podcast, Nerds Eye View. As well as on Wired Planning, speaking on “The Human Side Money.” Her company research has been featured on CNBC, and Forbes Magazine.

DETAILS

When	Tuesday, April 25 Doors open, 5:00 p.m. Program, 5:30-7:30 p.m.
Where	Ripple Space   Hurley Building 375 West 3rd St., Suite 400 Vancouver 98660
Tables	Reserved tables of four or more are available to bring your guests.

Register online, $35 per person at RippleImpactNW.org.
 Contact Ripple@RippleImpactNW.org.